In re: Spark Plugs Case No. 2:15-cv-03003

OBJECTION

Class Member Caitlin Ahearn, 401 N. Genesee Ave. 208, Los Angeles CA 90036, tel. #908-721-7262, hereby objects to this settlement and the plan of allocation and request for attorney's fees. Ms. Ahearn leased a new Hyundai Tucson 4DR SUV on February 20, 2016. See Documentation attached hereto as Exhibit A. Ms. Ahearn objects to the settlements reached in the Spark Plugs cases, No. 2:15-cv-03003, the settlements with Bosch and NGK Spark Plugs, as well as to the settlements reached in every other auto parts case, since her objections apply equally to all of the settlements and the overall request for a megafund fee award.

I. The Settlement Classes May Not Be Certified Because The Court Has Failed to Analyze the Comparative Strengths of Each State's Antitrust Laws, and Predominance is Lacking.

Recently, the Ninth Circuit reversed the approval of a multi-state class action settlement on the grounds that the district court had failed to adequately assess the relative strength of each state's relevant consumer protection laws. Espinosa v. Ahearn, 881 F.3d 679 (9th Cir. 2018). Here, there are material differences between the various states' Illinois Brick Repealer statutes that render the uniform treatment of all class members reversible error. The Notice states that payments will be determined on a pro rata basis, with no reference to the specific laws that give rise to each class members' claims. This is unfair to those class members' whose states provide greater potential damages, or where the obstacles to indirect purchaser recoveries are lower. Federal courts have recognized that the states of Hawaii and California have very strong consumer protection statutes as well as Illinois Brick repealer statutes that permit their residents to recover a higher percentage of their damages than residents of other "weak" Illinois Brick repealer states. See, e.g., In re Relafen Antitrust Litig., 231 F.R.D. 52, 65 (D. Mass. 2005)(Hawaiians received 90% reimbursement of Relafen purchases, Californians received 82.5% of Relafen purchases, Florida, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota New York and North Carolina residents received 60% or less of their Relafen purchases). The allocation of the Settlement Fund in this case should have followed a grid similar to the one set forth in Relafen, supra, which tracked the differences among the various states' antitrust and consumer protection laws.

A settlement must account for the greater rights afforded by California law. See e.g., In re Heritage Bond Litig., 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 13555, *37-38 (C.D. Cal. 2005)(reasonableness of settlement depends on whether it allocates "more of the settlement to class members with stronger claims on the merits"); In re Bankamerica Corp. Sec. Litig., 210 F.R.D. 694, 712 (E.D. Mo. 2002)(denying settlement approval because plan of allocation failed to account for "strength of [class members'] claims under California law"); In re Oracle Sec. Litig., 1994 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21593, *3-4 (N.D. Cal. 1994)(reasonable to allocate more to class members with stronger claims).

As a California resident, Ms. Ahearn is entitled to a greater percentage of the damages recovered than, for example, residents of Florida, Maine and New York. The differences among the various states' antitrust laws defeat predominance, and this case may not be certified as a class action.

II. Class Counsel Violated Rule 23(h), and Their Requested 25% Fee on this Billion Dollar Megafund is Grossly Excessive.

Class Counsel have failed to file their motion for attorney's fees and post it on the settlement website prior to the objection deadline, in violation of FRCP 23(h), In re Mercury Interactive Corp. Sec. Litig., 618 F.3d 988 (9th Cir. 2010) and Redman v. RadioShack Corp., 768 F.3d 622, 638 (7th Cir. 2014). As the Seventh Circuit held, "[Objectors] were handicapped in objecting because the details of class counsel's hours and expenses were submitted later, with the fee motion, and so they did not have all the information they needed to justify their objections. The objectors were also handicapped by not knowing the rationale that would be offered for the fee request, a matter of particular significance in this case because of the invocation of administrative costs as a factor warranting increased fees. There was no excuse for permitting so irregular, indeed unlawful, a procedure." Id.

This Court similarly permitted an unlawful procedure for noticing and objecting to attorney's fees in this settlement.

This is the third group of settlements in this multi-district consolidated litigation, bringing the total amount of the aggregate settlements to $1.035 billion, a megafund by any measure. In the previous two groups of settlements, this Court awarded Class

Counsel 20% of the funds, or $120.8 million, as fees, an amount that represented a 1.11 multiplier of Class Counsel's lodestar. As this third round of settlements comes less than a year after the last fee award, all of the fees requested this time around represent a bonus over lodestar for Class Counsel.

Despite failing to file their fee motion prior to the deadline for fee objections, in violation of Rule 23(h) and decisions of two federal circuits, Class Counsel indicate in the Notice that they intend to request a fee of 25% of the $432 million of latest settlements, an increase in the fees they have received to date, rather than a decrease as every other Circuit has required as the amount of recovery increases. See e.g. Silverman v. Motorola Solutions, Inc., 739 F.3d 956, 959 (7th Cir. 2014). A 25% fee award for the third group of settlements would result in an overall fee award of more than 22%, rather than the 15% or lower fee mandated by prior fee awards in megafund settlements and the median and mean fees as found by prominent scholars who have studied the relation of percentage fee awards to the amount of recovery across a large database of cases. A 10% fee award on the latest $432 million of recovery would result in a total fee of $164 million, or 15.8% of the total $1.035 billion settlement, which is at the upper limit of fees awarded in previous billion dollar megafund cases.

Failing to consider the settlements together would conceal the full magnitude of the megafund recovery in this litigation and lead to an excessive overall fee. As a $1.035 billion megafund, the appropriate fee in this case should be in the range of 5%-15%, as demonstrated in several prominent fee studies. See e.g., Fitzpatrick, An Empirical Study of Class Action Settlements and Their Fee Awards, 7 J. of Empirical Legal Studies 811, 839 (mean of 13.7%, median of 9.5%); Eisenberg & Miller, Attorney's Fees and Expenses in Class Action Settlements, 7 J. Empirical Law Stud. 248, 260 (2010), Table 7 (median fee in settlements over $175 million is 10%). If the settlements are instead considered separately and a fee is awarded in each case based on the size of each settlement, Class Counsel will be overcompensated and receive an excessive overall fee. The Court should not permit the piecemeal "structuring" of the settlements but instead consider all of them together as a billion dollar megafund, and award a fee commensurate with the market rate reflected in the Fitzpatrick and Eisenberg & Miller studies.

In the eleven class actions that settled prior to 2013 for more than one billion dollars, the average fee awarded is 7.0%, as demonstrated in the following chart:

| Case | Settlement Amount | Fee % | |
|------------------------------|--------------------------|-------|--|
| Enron ¹ | $7.27 billion | 9.52 | |
| World Com ² | $6.13 billion | 5.48 | |

| McKesson ¹² | $1.04 billion | 7.64 |
| Nortel II ¹¹ | $1.07 billion | 7.74 |
| Royal Ahold ¹⁰ | $1.1 billion | 11.88 |

Clearly, a fee award of 25% of the $432 million third settlement in this case, or a 22% overall fee, would be far out of line for settlements of this size. Even a fee of 10% of the latest settlement will result in a fee that is higher than the highest fee awarded in the billion-dollar plus settlements listed above. In any event, it would be an abuse of discretion for this Court to award Class Counsel more than 10% of the most recent settlement, especially since prior fee awards completely compensated Class Counsel for all of their time expended in this case, thus eliminating any risk of non-payment.

Because the fee award in this settlement will represent a pure premium for Class Counsel over and above their lodestar, the principles of moderation that underly fee awards in the highest megafund cases mandate a lower fee award at this stage of the case.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, this Court should DENY class certification to the settlement class, require an allocation plan that more closely tracks respective state laws, and limit Class Counsel's fee award to an appropriate percentage for a billion dollar megafund.
